Superannuation returns: data quality

Pursuant to section 17 of the Financial Sector (Collection of Data) Act 2001, APRA may issue a notice to a trustee of APRA-regulated superannuation entity, if a return given to APRA:

- is incorrect, incomplete or misleading;
- does not comply with the reporting standards; or
- does not contain adequate information.

Failure to comply with a request for a written explanation or further information may be an offence.

To assist trustees of APRA-regulated superannuation entities to lodge timely and accurate returns, APRA advises that it will check the following items in the quarterly and annual returns to ensure that the returns are complete, accurate and comply with the reporting standards.

If an entity fails any of these checks, APRA will contact the entity and seek an immediate explanation. This may involve resubmission of the entity’s return to APRA or an explanation for the items.

If you are aware that an entity’s return that is yet to be submitted will fail any one of these checks, APRA recommends that you send an explanatory email to superstats@apra.gov.au.
100 series return

- Only PSTs should report units issues (SRF 100.0, item 1.3).
- Only PSTs should report payments to unit holders (SRF 100.0, item 5.8).
- Entities which report proceeds on insurance policies (SRF 100.0, item 6.3) are expected to also report insurance premiums (SRF 100.0, item 7).
- Balances at the beginning of the financial year should be consistent across all four quarters within an annual reporting period. For example, ‘net assets available to pay benefits at the beginning of the financial year’ (SRF 100.0, item 22) should be the same on the September 2006, December 2006, March 2007 and June 2007 quarterly returns (for entities which balance on 30 June).
- APRA will investigate any significant increases or decreases in the information reported from one quarter to the next.
- APRA expects consistent reporting within the return. For example, items 23 and 23.1 SRF 100.0, ‘net assets available to pay benefits at the end of the reporting period’ and ‘other items required to reconcile items 23 and item 12 of SRF 110.0’, should equal item 12 SRF 110.0, ‘net assets available to pay benefits’.
- Similarly, if the entity has investments whose source currency is not AUD (so the ‘net market value’ in SRF 110, item 3.10 is greater than ‘net market value inside Australia’ of the same item), APRA expects a foreign exchange gain/loss to be reported (SRF 100, item 11.3).
- ‘Net assets’ must equal ‘total assets’ minus ‘total liabilities’.
- The sum of individual asset exposures must not exceed ‘total assets’.
- Entities must complete the SRF 100.0 form in the quarterly returns on a ‘year to date’ basis.
- All expense items should be reported as a positive value and on a year to date basis. Total expenses for the previous quarter should not be greater than total expenses for the current quarter.
- PSTs should not report ‘rollovers’, rather they should report ‘units issued’ and ‘payments to unit holders’.
- Employer and member contributions should be reported on a year to date basis. APRA does not expect employer and member contributions for the previous quarter to be greater than the current quarter.
o An increase / decrease in the value of ‘Net operating performance after tax’ (SRF 100, item 12) should be reflected in an increase / decrease in the value of ‘net assets available to pay benefits’ (SRF 110, item 12) over the quarter.

o Net assets available to pay benefits (SRF 110.0, item 12) should equal total (SRF 110.1, item 16).

o Superannuation entities should only report ‘excess/deficiency of assets’ in SRF 110.0, item 15 if they have received a formal actuarial valuation as at the quarterly reporting date, otherwise $nil should be entered at this item.

o For consistent reporting of item 15 and ‘net assets available to pay benefits (SRF 110.0 item 12), if a formal actuarial valuation was not conducted as at the reporting date, reserves (SRF 110.0 item 14) should be reported as $Nil in defined benefit entities and as accumulation-fund-type reserves only in hybrid entities. SRF 110.0 item 13 should then be reported as item 12 less items 14 and 15 (reserves and excess/deficiency of assets respectively).

o Entities offering defined benefits are unlikely to be able to report reserves (SRF 110.0, item 14). Please refer to SRF 110.0, item 14.0 of the Instruction Guide for more information.
